Promotion of Paul College Lecturer Faculty

Revised on April 9, 2018

The lecturer promotion policy is defined by the Collective Bargaining Agreement (CBA) entered into by the University of New Hampshire Lecturer’s Union (UNHLU-AAUP) and the University System of New Hampshire (USNH) Board of Trustees effective July 1, 2014 through June 30, 2017. This document is intended to add clarity to these policies as they apply to the Peter T. Paul College of Business and Economics; it is explicitly not intended to alter or replace any policy set forth in the CBA. In cases of conflicting policy, the CBA will be used to resolve the policy.

I. Eligibility for Promotion

This policy will take effect at the start of the 2018-2019 academic year.

A lecturer faculty member must be qualified with respect to AACSB following the criteria detailed in Paul College’s Faculty Qualifications Policy in order to apply for promotion to Senior or Principal Lecturer.

There is no minimum or maximum number of years of service for eligibility for promotion but it is typical that the process for promotion to Senior Lecturer be initiated in the seventh year of continuous or cumulative employment at the rank of Lecturer. It is typical that the process for promotion to Principal Lecturer be initiated in the sixth year of continuous or cumulative employment at the rank of Senior Lecturer. In cases of exceptional performance, lecturer faculty may come up for promotion earlier than these typical time frames. Prior service as an effective full-time lecturer at other AACSB accredited schools, or work as a manager in positions related to the areas of teaching may be counted towards these typical times in rank before promotion, at the discretion of the department chair and Dean.

There is no requirement for a lecturer to come up for promotion, no limit after which a lecturer faculty member can no longer come up for promotion, and no limit on the number of times a lecturer faculty member can be considered for promotion.

II. Criteria for Promotion

A. Promotion from Lecturer to Senior Lecturer

Positive recommendations should be made only for those individuals who have demonstrated distinctive value to the College and who demonstrate the capability and commitment for further development and contributions. A consistent record of competent teaching does not by itself warrant promotion to Senior Lecturer.
A Senior Lecturer shall have a track-record of successful teaching experience and evidence of a strong commitment to professional development as well as a demonstrated record of helping the department strengthen its educational program(s). Successful teaching experience can be documented by quantitative and qualitative student evaluations, classroom evaluations of teaching performance by the department chair (or designee), and evaluation of syllabi by the Promotion Committee.

Commitment to professional development can be evidenced by both the activities undertaken to maintain faculty qualifications in accordance with College policy, as well as by activities designed to increase one’s teaching repertoire, including but not limited to: major revision of courses, teaching a portfolio of different courses, serving as a resource for faculty peers, etc. Elective professional activities – uncompensated activities outside of assigned work that reflect well on the College and University – may also be considered in promotion decisions.

B. Promotion from Senior Lecturer to Principal Lecturer

A Principal Lecturer shall have a background of exemplary teaching and other contributions to the College. The rank of Principal Lecturer is the highest rank so recommendations for promotion to this rank must reflect that distinction. After successful service as a Senior Lecturer, an individual who has satisfied the following criteria may be put forward for promotion to the rank of Principal Lecturer:

1. Evidence of consistent excellence in teaching, as documented by student evaluations, supervisor/departmental evaluations, and evaluation of syllabi;
2. Evidence of continuous professional development as a teacher, which may include:
   a. Attendance and/or presentations at professional or pedagogical conferences, workshops, or seminars;
   b. Development of new courses and/or substantial revision of existing courses;
   c. Development or incorporation of innovative course materials or instructional techniques;
   d. Awards or other recognition for teaching;
   e. Awards or other recognition for professional engagement or contributions to their professional field of expertise;
3. Evidence of outstanding service to the instructional mission of the College, such as:
   a. Course and/or Program coordination;
   b. Advising student independent study, honors projects or honors theses;
   c. Significant roles in major student events or competitions;
   d. Coordination of conferences or other activities designed to bring outside professionals into interaction with the College community.
4. Elective professional activities—uncompensated activities outside of assigned work that reflect well on the College and University—may also be considered in promotion decisions.

III. Process for Evaluating Lecturer Faculty for Promotion

It is the responsibility of the candidate to initiate the promotion evaluation process as well as assemble and submit the required material in the required format by the established deadlines.

An adequate evaluation of a promotion candidate’s qualifications and professional contributions requires the judgment of both the candidate’s faculty colleagues and responsible administrators. Typically, there are two levels of review: the department and the Dean of the college.

A. Departmental Level Review and Recommendation

1. The candidate and department chair should discuss promotion as part of the annual performance review. This will give the candidate sufficient time to gather the required materials for the dossier and meet the established deadlines.

2. The candidate shall notify his or her chair of the desire to be considered for promotion according to Section V. Promotion Review Calendar.

3. The department committee shall consist of the department chair, one lecturer faculty and one tenure-track faculty, with the latter two selected in accordance with sections 13.4.1.1, 13.4.1.2, and 13.4.1.3 of the UNHLU CBA.

4. The department committee will review the candidacy, vote for or against promotion by majority vote, and add to the dossier a letter summarizing the committee’s decision. The letter must be signed by all members of the department committee. The vote of the committee is advisory to the Dean.

5. A candidate whose application for promotion is denied at the department level will be provided a written explanation of the grounds for the denial at the time of notification.

6. Candidates not recommended for promotion by their departments may appeal the decision to the Dean or the Dean’s designee in writing within 10 days. If a candidate chooses not to appeal, the application is considered to be withdrawn and the promotion process ends.

B. College Level Review and Decision

1. The Dean may—at her/his sole discretion—delegate the review and recommendation regarding promotion of lecturer faculty to a designee. The final promotion decision will remain with the Dean.

2. Dean shall make a decision on the promotion candidacy and do the following:
   a. Write a letter summarizing his/her assessment and add it to the dossier.
   b. Notify the candidate, department chair and Provost in writing of the final decision.
C. If the Dean does not approve the promotion, the lecturer has the right to follow the grievance process as stated in Article 14 of the UNHLU CBA.

IV. Contents of the Dossier

The candidate, in consultation with the department chair, will assemble a promotion dossier according to the guidelines listed below. V. Promotion Review Timeline

The following is a timeline for the lecturer promotion review process. Some deadlines may be adjusted by the Dean at the start of each academic year and communicated to all faculty by September 30; however, the deadlines of February 1 and March 15 are set by the UNHLU CBA and cannot be adjusted.

   December 1 - The candidate notifies his or her chair of the desire to be considered for promotion.
   January 10 - Eligible lecturer faculty wishing to be considered for promotion submit their dossiers to their departments.
   February 1 - Departments submit recommendations and dossiers to the Dean.
March 15 - The Dean makes decisions and communicates them to the promotion candidates, their department chairs, and the Provost.

VI. Technical Guidance for Dossier Assembly

The candidate is expected to submit the dossier materials to the department chair or administrative assistant for upload to the candidate’s promotion folder on Box. The candidate’s department is responsible for ensuring that the dossier is complete.

1. The candidate’s department creates and owns the Box folder and grants access to the promotion committee. The candidate shall not have access.

2. The Box folder contains two (2) PDF documents:
   a. The dossier as one PDF, with table of contents;
   b. The committee’s recommendation as a PDF.

3. By February 1, the fully assembled dossier is uploaded to Box and the candidate’s department grants Box access to the Dean, both Associate Deans, Executive Assistant and the Assistant Manager for Faculty Administration.

4. The Dean will make a decision by March 15, and notify all parties. The Dean will draft a formal letter which may be e-mailed to the candidate with copies to the department chair, Assistant Manager for Faculty Administration, UNH’s Associate Provost for Finance and Academic Administration, and the college’s Director of Finance and Administration.

5. The Dean’s Office will copy the contents into a restricted Dean’s Office folder, and all Dean’s Office staff and administrators’ permissions will be removed from the candidate’s department folder. The Dean’s letter will be uploaded to the candidate’s personnel folder on Box and bookmarked in the candidate’s promotion folder.
