

Accounting Students Association - The Accounting Students' Association (ASA) is an academic student organization that facilitates the exchange of information about the accounting profession and provides opportunities for networking with industry professionals.

Alpha Kappa Psi - Alpha Kappa Psi is the premier developer of principled business leaders in the university community. AKPsi is a coed professional fraternity focused of networking and growing together as business professionals.

Atkins Investment Group - The Atkins Investment Group is a completely student-managed investment fund at the University of New Hampshire's Paul College of Business & Economics, overseeing approximately $200,000 in long-equity positions.

Club Managers Association - Club Managers Association of America, UNH student chapter, brings students together to network with club managers throughout the country, increase knowledge of private clubs by touring local clubs and bringing in club managers to speak with students.

Hospitality Financial & Technology Professionals - HFTP of UNH provides students studying for hospitality-related business careers with networking opportunities, scholarships, access to guest speakers with direct knowledge of the business world, and opportunities for community service.

Information Systems Management Association - This organization provides resources for networking among current students and alumni, learning experiences outside of the classroom and other opportunities for professional development.

Marketing and Advertising Club - The UNH Marketing and Advertising Club (MAC) enables members to obtain hands-on learning experience through innovative and ongoing projects that challenge them in groups that are representative of the professional world.

Professional Convention Management Association - This organization aims to deliver superior and innovative education and to promote the value of professional convention management through hands-on and networking approaches for UNH student members.

SIGNAL: Students Interested in Growth, Networking and Leadership - SIGNAL provides business students at the University of New Hampshire the opportunity to learn about leadership within organizations, to begin building professional networks, and to learn various business and professional skills not generally addressed within the classroom.

UNH Hospitality Sales and Marketing Club - HSMO is a organization for students who want to gain experience in establishing and expanding their skills and knowledge of sales and marketing within the hospitality industry.

UNH Sales Club - This organization provides students at the University of New Hampshire the opportunity to further explore potential careers in sales and to network with fellow undergraduates and alumni.

UNH Women in Business - UNH Women in Business (WIB) provides undergraduate women with a positive environment to prepare for their careers while connecting with one another. Activities include professional development workshops, networking events, and community service projects.