Program Description

The New Hampshire Medical Society and the New Hampshire Hospital Association have collaborated with nationally recognized thought-leaders from the University of New Hampshire’s Peter T. Paul College of Business and Economics, and College of Health and Human Services, along with other leadership experts to develop the New Hampshire Physician Leadership Development Program.

The goal of the program is to cultivate effective physician leadership across the Granite State from the bedside to the boardroom by teaching management, communication, and leadership skills, fostering effective communication between the medical staff and administration, and empowering physicians to foster change among their colleagues.

The New Hampshire Physician Leadership Development Program is designed to:

• Build on physician learning styles by providing longitudinal learning experiences and best practices through case-based curriculum.
• Encompass learning modules highly relevant to physician life experiences.
• Accommodate physicians’ busy lives by scheduling 20 four-hour monthly modules over 2 years.
• Feature practical insights and skills directly applicable to their practice opportunities and challenges.
• Focus on practical application of physician leadership and management concepts.
• Strengthen physician leadership skills across disciplines and practice settings.
• Offer modularized, physician-oriented educational experience and dynamic, interactive format.
• Feature practical insights and skills directly applicable to their practice opportunities and challenges.

Program Director:

Neil Meehan, DO, FACEP, is the chief physician executive for Exeter Health Resources and its affiliated companies – Exeter Hospital, Core Physicians and Rockingham Visiting Nurse Association & Hospice. Dr. Meehan received his medical degree from Michigan State University, and completed a residency in emergency medicine at the University of Massachusetts Medical Center. He also has a master's degree in health care management from Harvard University's School of Public Health, and obtained additional training in clinical biomedical informatics from Oregon Health Sciences University. Dr. Meehan is board certified in emergency medicine, and was previously the chief medical officer at Lawrence General Hospital in Lawrence, Massachusetts.

Dr. Meehan has led the design and delivery of successful physician leadership development programs at both Lawrence General and Exeter Hospitals and brings a wealth of experience and expertise in how to develop outstanding physician leaders.
